EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Addiction is incredibly costly. It's estimated that opioid use costs $500 billion annually and opioid patients cost ~5x more than all other patients.
- Not all treatments are equal. Without treatment, OUD patients are 50% percent more likely to die from overdose. Yet, 80% of patients coming from residential programs relapse in the year following treatment.
- Residential treatment costs 3X more and produces worse outcomes than outpatient medication-assisted treatment.
- BHG uses outpatient medication-assisted recovery<sup>SM</sup> as a clinical best practice, and has 77 locations in 17 states, and growing.
- BHG takes a patient-centered approach to treatment that helps individuals to take their life back. This includes evaluating their needs and connecting them to the appropriate resources and services to ensure they have every opportunity for success and well-being. Our patients continue their daily lives – living at home, holding down a job, and engaging with their family and community – while being treated for their addiction.
- BHG employs a unique Integrated Dynamic Care Model and expansive service offerings with a goal of recovery for a lifetime.

WHAT MAKES BHG DIFFERENT

#1: Recovery for a lifetime: We measure our value against our patients' ability to achieve real long-term recovery. That's why all our products and services, our culture and clinical approach are built around facilitating recovery, not just delivering treatment.

---

#2: Integrated Dynamic Care Model: We apply proven treatment strategies and integrate them into a dynamic and flexible care model that allows us to move patients through different avenues as their needs change and evolve. This unique, operationalized approach to integrated care ensures patients remain engaged and better understand their psychological and physiological responses along their path to recovery, which, ultimately, delivers better clinical outcomes.

---

#3: Expansive Service Offering: Our expansive counseling services and focus on case management deliver better guidance and consultation to patients and family members. And by offering OTP (opioid treatment programs) and OBOT (office-based opioid treatment) together in multiple locations, we expand flexibility and customization with medication types and how they're administered in the least restrictive, low-cost setting.

---

#4: Broader Delivery Model: As the largest network of Joint Commission-accredited OUD treatment centers in the U.S., BHG can offer patients greater access to its services, ensuring continuity along the recovery journey whether at home or traveling.

Medication-Assisted Treatment as a clinical best practice

"A range of care with a tailored treatment program and follow-up options can be crucial to success. Treatment should include both medical and behavioral health services as needed."

-National Institute on Drug Abuse

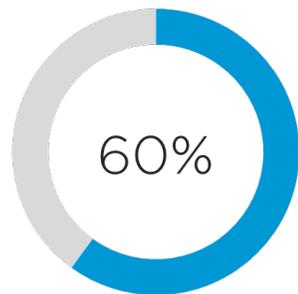

- Federally licensed, The Joint Commission accredited facility for outpatient MAT supported by medical supervision, random drug testing and diversion control plans
- All three FDA approved medications can be prescribed and dispensed in an OTP (methadone, buprenorphine and naltrexone)

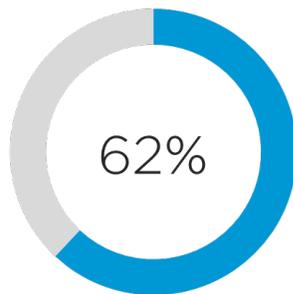

- Physician office setting where the clinician has received a waiver to prescribe only buprenorphine and naltrexone for opioid use disorder
- Patients receive a prescription to be filled at a pharmacy or PBM

1Methadone maintenance (MMT) is the most effective treatment for opioid dependence according to randomized trials, e.g., greater reduction in illicit drug use, criminal activity, and mortality according to National Consensus Development Panel on Effective Treatment of Opiate Addiction, 1998. | 2Individuals addicted to opioids who only receive psychological support are 2x more likely to suffer a fatal overdose than those treated with medication
